

FELT SHOCKS OF AN EARTHQUAKE

Illinois The Scene Of A Seismic Disturbance During The Night And Early Morning.

LASTED HALF MINUTE AT CAIRO

Panic Is Created In St. Louis--Hundreds Of People Deserted Their Homes and Took Refuge In The Streets.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.] Chicago, Aug. 22.—Chicagoans residing near the western limits of the city were awakened or startled last night by the faint vibrations of a distinct seismic disturbance that traveled the entire length of the state. In the immediate vicinity of Chicago the earthquake was barely perceptible. In towns and villages lying west and southwest of the city the shock was distinctly felt and occasioned, while it lasted, considerable alarm. The tremor, according to officials of the hydrographical bureau, swept through the state roughly along a line running from the southwest to the northeast, only its extreme vibrations reaching the outer limits of the city. Suburbs Feel the Shock. In Glen Ellyn and Wheaton and other places to the west and northwest of the city, along the lake, the two distinct shocks, sufficiently strong to shake furniture in the houses and arouse those who were asleep were experienced. The first shock was felt at a few minutes after 11 o'clock. This was followed by a second, less distinct, within a space of a few seconds. Telegraphic dispatches indicate that the earthquake was general all over the Mississippi valley as far south as Cairo, Ill. In some of the towns lying directly in the path of the seismic disturbance the shock of succeeding tremors was sufficiently strong to make houses rock and displace furniture. In St. Louis, Mo., hundreds of persons, awakened from sleep, rushed to the street in terror, and in many instances terror-stricken pedestrians stopped in the streets and prayed. Panic at Cairo, Ill. The earthquake caused a panic at Cairo, Ill. The first shock felt in the southern Illinois city at a few minutes after 11 o'clock, lasted for more than half a minute. The tremor, which was preceded by a loud rumbling noise, shook the strongest buildings in the city and threw the residents into a state of terror. Hundreds deserted their houses and took refuge in the streets. A second shock followed closely upon the first, and it was some time before the more frightened of the citizens could be persuaded that there was no cause for alarm. Reports from Evansville, Ind., and Owensburg and Henderson, Ky., say that the earthquake was distinctly felt at those places, and that for a time the citizens were in terror. In all of these places two separate shocks were felt at an interval of a few seconds. No Shock at Life Saving Stations. Reports from the life saving stations in the vicinity of Chicago say that there was no unusual disturbances on the lake, indicating that the tremor was moving in a westerly direction. As there is no seismograph at the weather bureau, officials there, were unable to record the strength or direction of the tremor. It was stated at the bureau that there might be some connection between the stifling heat of the night and some slight seismic disturbance.

BLOODY BATTLES ON OLD FUED GROUNDS

Three Persons Are Killed, Two From Ambush and Several Are Wounded in Blue Grass State.

Harriman, Tenn., Aug. 22.—According to information received here a bloody feud battle occurred near Alice Station, on the Queen and Crescent railroad, a few miles south of Harriman Junction. Frederick Miller and his son, John Miller, aged 23, and Fred Johnson, were killed and Henry Miller, another son of Fred Miller, aged 18, was dangerously wounded. The men were enroute to the station, where young Miller was to leave to join the army. When they were two miles from the depot they were fired upon by men from ambush. The elder Miller and his son John fell dead at the first fire, while the younger Miller and Johnson were enabled to return the fire. So far it is not known how many men were in the other party. Johnson was struck twice in the second volley and fell dead. Seeing that he would be unable to fight the enemy single-handed, the younger Miller rode away with his right hand shot off. For more than twenty years a feud war has raged between the Miller and Rawlings families. It is not known that members of the latter family were engaged in the fight. A posse of officers is scouring the country for the murderers. It is the belief of the people of the community that other killings will follow. Feud in Powell County. Clay City, Ky., Aug. 22.—In a desperate feud fight on Black creek, in Powell county, Campbell Anderson, was killed and Tom and Calc Morton, brothers, were seriously wounded, while Will Peasler and Troy Plunkett were slightly hurt. The men were in a "blind tiger" operated by Plunkett, when the trouble started between Anderson and Tom Morton, and before the men could be separated Morton was slashed several times with a knife in the hands of Anderson. When it became known that Morton was dead the fight became general between the friends of Anderson on one side and those of Morton on the other. All of the men are among the most prominent in Lee county and have long been known as members of fighting families of early feud days. Further trouble is expected. [SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.] Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 22.—Gryan is here and his wife is now in Germany, coming home, the party having changed its plans for a tour of the world to the eastward. They will leave San Francisco for the Orient Sept. 16.

GENERAL MINOR HAS REACHED THE SCENE

Noted Officer Named in Taggart's Complaint Appears in the Court.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.] Wooster, Aug. 22.—Brigadier General Minor, who was Captain Taggart's commanding officer at Port Leavenworth, was present at the court today. Mrs. Irene Vose was recalled to the stand and cross-examined. Again she said Taggart had passed her door in his pajamas and went into the room where the Filipino servant, Augustina, slept. She said Taggart was morose and irritable during her visit to the Taggart home in Manila. Mrs. Vose described an occasion during her visit to the Taggart home in Manila, when, she said, Taggart slapped his wife. She said Major Newberry left Taggart's house on account of this. She said the Taggarts had four servants, four horses and the rest of the establishment in proportion, but declared Mrs. Taggart had no special comforts.

Unknowningly Wrote Epigram.

When Marshal MacMahon in the Crimean campaign took the Malakoff by storm and wrote his celebrated dispatch, "Iy suis, Iy resto" ("Here I am; here I stay"), these words made him famous all over the world. Yet his friends said that the worthy soldier had written them in the most matter-of-fact manner, with no thought of phrasemaking. The most surprised person over the success of his epigram was MacMahon himself.

BOYCOTT MAY REACH ALL FOREIGN TRADE

Ching Ching Move Against America May Widen Into Fight on Germany and England.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, D. C., August 22.—From a measure which was apparently originated by the Chinese in the hope of bluffing the United States into modifying its administration of the Chinese exclusion laws so that high class Chinese may be freely admitted, the boycott of American goods seems to be developing into a matter which is giving all foreigners residing in the Celestial Kingdom a great deal of concern. Merchants of other countries at first hailed with secret joy the idea that American goods were to be shut out of competition with English and German and other manufacturers, but it is now feared that the boycott movement may turn into an expression of general antipathy to all foreigners, which may have results as serious as those of 1900 were. Foreigners are now joining with the importers of American goods and the Chinese officials to have the movement suppressed. This intelligence was emphasized by the receipt of the State Department of a despatch, from the Consul General at Shanghai, which said that the boycott situation remained unchanged, but that the apprehension among the foreigners was increasing. The department explained, after several days of delay, since the despatch that came from there was the same, that this feeling of apprehension was one of fear that the boycott would develop into a revolutionary movement of five years ago, that of the Boxers. With the Empress Dowager's power weakened by her flight at the time of the Peking disturbances, and the consequent strengthening of those about the Young Emperor the assurances for tranquility in the empire are considered here far less strong than they were prior to the outbreak of 1902.

EARTHQUAKE WRECKS IMMENSE BUILDING

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.] St. Louis, Aug. 22.—A section of the education building of the World's fair collapsed this morning and carried down eleven men who were wrecking it. Some were probably fatally hurt. It is supposed it was weakened by the earthquake shocks last night.

ADJOURN CONFERENCE UNTIL TOMORROW NOW

Are Evidently Waiting for Final Instructions From Tokio and St. Petersburg.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.] Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 22.—The peace conference scheduled to be resumed this morning has been adjourned until tomorrow. The reason given by the officials is that the secretaries have not yet had time to prepare drafts for the protocol, but it is thought that both the Japanese and Russians are waiting for final instructions from Tokio and St. Petersburg. Asst. Sec. of State Pierce this morning had a conference which lasted over two hours with Kaneko's secretary. The greatest secrecy was maintained. Pierce declared he went to the Hotel Rockingham merely to arrange for a dinner he is to give the Japanese envoys tomorrow night. While Pierce was present the clerks positively refused to admit anyone to the house. It is believed this conference is in connection with the concessions the Japanese have decided to make to the Russians.

YELLOW FEVER IS DISCUSSED

Federal Authorities Believe They Will Be Able To Prevent Its Spreading.

PLAN INSPECTION IN THE SPRING

Breaking Up Of Winter Will Find Officials On The Look-out For All Fever Cases In The Southern States.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.] New Orleans, La., Aug. 22.—In the matter of deaths uniformly is unusual from day to day, because the condition of patients is so largely affected by meteorological and other conditions. The federal authorities have not reached a point where they are willing to prophesy the complete extermination of the disease before frost but they feel that there is reason for the prediction that a repetition of the serious epidemics of the past is no longer to be reckoned with. In this connection unusual precautions, under the supervision of the Marine hospital service or otherwise, are to be taken to prevent a reappearance of the fever next spring. It has been demonstrated by scientists that the stegomyia hibernata. A vigilant watch will, therefore, be kept when the winter passes for any cases which may then appear here or elsewhere in the South. Want Freight Restrictions Raised. Numbers of merchants visited White. Their object was to ask his intercession in the matter of an amelioration of the restrictions imposed against freight by towns like Lake Charles, which desires no intercourse with New Orleans. Dr. White had just returned from Mobile, where he laid fully before the officials the measure of precautions that have been taken to prevent the transmission of mosquitoes in freight cars. President Charles Jarvis of the citizens' committee, whose work of raising funds and arousing public interest in their work is acknowledged by the federal authorities, insisted on being found guilty of failure to screen a tank when arraigned before Recorder Palm. The tank was of running water in his attic. Case of Fever in Court. Prisoners, court attaches and hangerson at the second criminal court, were thrown into something of a panic when a genuine case of yellow fever was discovered in the dock. The man was found ill among a number of prisoners, and the doctor who was called promptly diagnosed the case as yellow fever. So much dissatisfaction has resulted from the operation of the camp at Slidell that Dr. White has ordered it closed. The camp at Harahan has been built by the government. It is the first of its kind ever completely erected and maintained by the Marine hospital service, the buildings being especially constructed for the purpose. The Marine hospital service has ordered a house to house inspection in each of the wards to determine the condition of the temporary screening work, and to see that all sanitary ordinances are being complied with.

AGED MAN ACCUSED OF KILLING BROTHER

Seventy-second Birthday Anniversary of Kentuckian Brings Arrest on Charge of Murder.

Lawrenceburg, Ky., Aug. 22.—William H. York, up to a few days ago one of the most highly esteemed men in Anderson county, was arrested on Monday afternoon on his 72d birthday, charged with the murder of his elder brother, James R. York, on Friday, Aug. 18, at the home of his niece, Mrs. Anna Wallace. Only a short time before his death Mr. York had divided two-thirds of his $500,000 between his two nieces and William H. York, now under arrest, their titles to be absolute at his death. At night Mrs. Wallace and her children returned from the fair here to find her uncle slain. When Mrs. Birdwhistle, another niece, and family reached home she found her husband's shotgun, which had been left loaded in its accustomed place in a corner near the fireplace, and been taken out and both barrels discharged, and that the shot the shells had contained were the same size of those found in the body. The gun had been taken out and used, and evidently in an attempt to put the crime on Mr. Birdwhistle had been returned to its place. Mr. Birdwhistle, however, had been at the fair all day. From the first suspicion, backed up by bloodhounds, pointed to the murdered man's brother. The officers had settled upon William H. York as the murderer; but to avoid a lynching did nothing till after dark, when York was arrested.

STUDENTS' PASTOR TO LEAVE MADISON

Pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church To Go to Ann Arbor, Michigan.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., August 22.—Rev. A. W. Stalker, the "pastor of the students," is to leave Madison, after a service of five years in the pulpit of the Methodist Episcopal church, in which time he earned the reputation of being the foremost preacher of the university town, for his popularity with the large university contingent of his congregation. His fame as a preacher of large influence for good among university students spread to Ann Arbor, the seat of the state university of Michigan, and a unanimous call has come from the Methodist church of that city. Dr. Stalker has accepted the call, resigned his pastorate here, and the officers of the church have adopted resolutions expressing deep regret that he is no longer to remain here. Recently Professor T. W. Truett, head of the department of oratory in the University of Michigan, was in Madison on intercollegiate debating business with Professor D. B. Frankenburg of the department of oratory in the University of Wisconsin. Being a Methodist, Professor Truett had attended Dr. Stalker's church here and upon returning home made a report which resulted in the call to Ann Arbor. Dr. Stalker was graduated from the University of Michigan and sang in the Methodist church choir there. By that church he was recommended to the ministry and he now goes to serve the church which placed him in the Christian ministry, and to preach to the students of his alma mater.

CITY COUNCIL ORDERS LIGHTS ON ALL LAUNCHES.

CRUSHED STONE A LUXURY

According to the Statement of Ald. Fish—St. Paul to Have Gates at McKay Boulevard Crossing.

In addition to the regular routine business which included the adoption of the finance committee's report on bills and city officers' salaries, the city council took action on a number of important matters last evening. Aldermen Dulka and Jackman were absent from the session. The city clerk was instructed by an order to draw on the city treasurer for the sum of $35, payable to B. P. Crossman, as the balance due for paving between the street-car rails on East and West Milwaukee and South Main streets. Another order on the treasurer in favor of the Rock County National bank for the redemption of street improvement certificates which payees called for in the following amounts: West Milwaukee street, $812.73; East Milwaukee street, $2,009.47; South Main street, $1,553.24. The judiciary committee, through Ald. Merritt, reported favorably on the transfer of Fred Stillson's saloon license to Curtis & Kimball and the license committee, through Ald. Hager, reported the bonds to be in due form and moved acceptance. The application of P. F. Mulquin & Co. for a license to conduct a saloon at 307 West Milwaukee street was turned down, the license committee making the recommendation on the ground that the petitioners accompanied their application with a check for only $417, taking it for granted that they could pay a license for a fractional portion of a year. The judiciary committee asked for further time to report on the notices of damage from H. H. Blanchard and A. A. Russell. On their recommendation, the claim of the W. T. Van Kirk estate against the city for groceries was disallowed. The bonds of J. F. Sweeney and E. D. Roberts as members of the fire and police commission and C. K. Millmore as a member of the school board were received and accepted.

Gates on Boul. McKay
A street grade for State street and a sidewalk grade on Center avenue, which had been filed, were accepted. The report of the city marshal was adopted, Chairman Brockhaus of the committee on parks introduced an order authorizing said committee to receive bids for the construction of drinking fountains at the Court House park, at the intersection of Pleasant and West Milwaukee street, and on the Corn Exchange. Plans and specifications for the Court House park fountain were filed and adopted and the two other fountains are to be built on the same lines. The order passed. Ald. Brockhaus introduced an ordinance to amend Section I of the measure passed June 12, 1905, requiring the C. M. & St. P. Ry. Co. to keep a flagman at the McKay boulevard crossing, in such a manner as to require instead the construction, maintenance, and operation of gates at that point. The rules were suspended and the ordinance was advanced to its third reading and placed on passage. It will be in force after its publication for three successive days.

Boats Must Carry Lights
Hereafter, steamboats, gasoline launches, and other craft propelled by motive power which ply the Rock river within the city of Janesville will be required to display in conspicuous places, during the night time, suitable lights to give warning of danger. Neglect to provide such lights will be a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $25 or less than $5. The ordinance containing these provisions was introduced last evening by Ald. Merritt and under a suspension of the rules advanced to its third reading and placed on passage. It will be in force after its publication for three successive days.

Investigate the Shooting
A four-foot walk was authorized in front of lot 4, Shumway's addition and part of Dixon & Bailey's addition. The street commissioner was instructed to put a permanent foundation under that part of the arch under West Milwaukee street which lies in front of the property of John Watson, and to build brick crosswalks on the street on the north side of Milwaukee and across the alley on the north side of Oakland avenue between Bluff and Division streets. That official was also advised to notify the Janesville Street Ry. Co. to repair the street surface between its rails on the East Milwaukee street hill. The assistant street commissioner was instructed to repair the concrete walk through the Fourth Ward park. By an order introduced by Ald. Fish the fire and police commission was directed to investigate the alleged shooting at a boy by Special Officer William Brigham, in the rear of Colvin's bakery, a few nights ago. The city engineer was requested to file a grade for North First street from North Main to North Bluff. John Benson was appointed as special policeman without pay from Aug. 8 to Nov. 6.

Heavy Cost of Crushed Stone
Mayor Hutchinson reported that he had disposed of the issue of street improvement bonds to C. S. Jackman for $14,274.44. Alderman Fish suggested that crushed stone at 95 cents a yard for the city when it was furnished to the paving contractor for 35 cents a yard, was a rather expensive luxury. While he agreed that the expense of hauling for the city where the stone must be delivered in many places rather than one locality should perhaps be larger than in the case of the pavement building, yet he did not think it should cost over twice as much. While delivering to the paving contractor he said that the teamsters got from $4 to $4.75 a day and finished their work every afternoon at five o'clock. His Honor mentioned the fact that one of the milkmen in the city had spoken to him regarding the advisability of having all cattle in the city inspected. No action with regard to the last two subjects introduced was suggested or taken. The council again dispensed with the reading of the minutes last evening. At the next session there will be a recital that will last nearly an hour.

To Kill the Dandruff Germ.
In the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.
If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect," said by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Labor Notes

The California State Federation considers that it is against union principles for labor unions to go into politics.

A new department was formed in the Norwegian Central Bureau of Statistics recently for the special purpose of collecting and publishing statistics relative to the state of employment.

Belgian glass manufacturers are to form a glass trust in order to oppose the demands of the labor unions for money and to obtain better selling prices in foreign markets.

Statistics completed by the pension department of the Pennsylvania railroad show that in four years 1,244,087 have been expended for the relief of those entitled to consideration.

Organizers of the International Seamen's Union of America are in New Orleans, La., working for the formation of a new local union of seamen.

California is not the only state in which action is being taken against the Japanese. All the coast states and many of the adjacent states are organizing to stop the incoming of Japanese cheap labor.

About half of the cigarmakers in Cuba are Spaniards and the rest Cubans. There are estimated to be about 20,000 cigarmakers on the island, of which number about half, or 10,000 are in Havana, who earn from $9 to $12 a week, when they work a full week.

Officers of the United Meat Cutters and Butcher Workers of America have decided to abandon strikes, according to one of the organizers, and a fund is being raised to support cooperative packing plants throughout the country.

Fashion Notes

The time has come when serious thought must be given to children's fashions, particularly those modes that are practicable for school use. These show no very radical changes, but there is sufficient variation from the styles that have prevailed for the past few months to inspire fond mothers with the desire to have the later creations for their offspring.

Tun materials will be worn as late as possible and, indeed, the fashion of wearing wash dresses is growing among children just as the vogue is among women of affecting tub shirt waists all through the winter. Of course it is necessary to have nice wraps and other accessories conducive to warmth, but the little frocks of chambray, heavy linen, etc., can all be kept fresh looking and neat and are healthier—the physical culturists contend—than woolen stuffs.

Following the style of her mother's gown, the school girl's dress lacks the baggy pounciness conspicuous for several seasons; but on the other hand, care must be taken that a sufficient fullness is allowed in the bodice to prevent a tight effect.

Plaids make effective school dresses and whether it is a plaided gingham or voile, there are pretty trimmings which add much to the beauty of the design. Wash materials in plaid effects are usually trimmed with white braids, or a braid that corresponds with the predominating tint of the plaid. Of course for woolen fabric, silk braids and bands of taffeta are used instead in the scheme of decoration.

Blouse suits will always be popular for school girls, even until they are well up in their teens, because they are so extremely comfortable, yet always dressy. Tucks, plaits and other embellishments may be added to the waists, while skirts are trimmed accordingly.

Quite a neat little frock, which may serve as a school design or "Sunday best" is made of chambray. The background is a clear old rose over which are sprinkled sprays of tiny red flowers with green sprigs. The skirt is tucked all around the waistline, and above the rather deep hem is a band of Valenciennes lace dyed in old rose shade.

The little bodice blouses slightly over a belt of old rose ribbon and has a pointed yoke, tucked and finished with the lace. Below the yoke, running round and round the figure is a second band of the insertion.

With blouse suits of woolen fabric separate collars and cuffs of linen are always good to have on hand, for they can be changed daily and add a touch of neatness to a dress that is really dainty. Turn-overs and other little embroidered accessories which have hitherto been limited to the use of grown-ups, have extended their province to the realm of children's fashions and are to be used with great success during the coming season.

One cannot write of fashion for young folks without mentioning broderie Anglaise any more than can the modes of their elders be written omitting the indispensable trimmings, for this embroidery is employed upon smart frocks with lavish hand. Truth to tell, it is not limited to little girls' dresses, either, for it is seen among the styles for boys in the form of the scalloped belt, the embroidered collar and cuffs.

The mohair made up after Russian models are being worn with success and are among the modes which will carry over to another season. These are made up on the same lines indicated for mohair and while, by the way, is to be counted among the expensive fashions for fall and winter wear. In mohair and serge, however, it can be cleaned easily and without shrinking. If one is careful to have warm water used for both the washing and rinsing processes. The reason why many woolen materials are ruined when put in the water is that they are subjected to extremes of temperature that shrink them unrecognizably and render them unfit for further service.

Trimmed with handsome silk braid or crocheted buttons, white serge frocks are the acme of fashion, for both general and very dressy wear.

POLICE DEALT WITH THREE HUNDRED MEN

And Women During Interval Elapsing Between May 22 and Aug. 21—Twenty-Seven Dogs Killed.

City Marshal Comstock's report to the city council last evening for the interval elapsing from May 22 to date, proved very interesting. No money had come into his hands during that time. Patrolmen Morrissey and Bear had each enjoyed ten days' vacation and Officer Peter Champion was at present on his leave of absence, his place being supplied by William Brigham. There had been 17 violations of ordinances followed by arrest and detention and 184 drunks and vags had fallen into the hands of the officers but had not been taken to court, making a grand total of 306 persons dealt with by the department. The 183 were distributed among the months as follows: May, 27; June, 63; July, 69; August, 24. The 117 arrests for violations of ordinances were credited as follows: Brown, 33; Fanning, 21; Baneke, 16; Bear, 15; Corbett, 14; Morrissey, 9; Brigham, 7; Champion, 2. The specific violations were tabulated as follows: drunk and disorderly, 52; assault, 7; larceny, 6; pickpockets, 5; inmates of houses of ill-fame, 3; keepers of the same, 2; patrons of the same, 4; detained and transported defendants, 3; selling liquor to minors, 2; false pretense, 1; runaway boy, 1; disturbing a church social, 1. Twenty-seven dogs had been killed.

It is stated that 50 per cent of English employers absolutely favor unionism.

SMALL GAIN IN SCHOOL CENSUS

FIVE MORE SCHOLARS THAN IN PREVIOUS YEAR.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS

Four New Teachers Appointed, and Two Transfers Made Last Evening.

Janesville school census statistics for the year ending June 30, 1905, gathered and just completed by St. Burnham, show a gain of five in the number of residents of school age of the previous year. The gains were made in the second, third and fourth wards, while losses are credited to the first and fifth. The biggest loss, thirty-one, was in the first, and in the fifth where there was a falling off in the city assessment this year there was a loss of eighty-four. The greatest gain was twenty-four, in the second ward. The other increases were twenty-one in the third and nine in the fourth. The figures for the two years, 1904 and 1905, are as follows:

Ward	Year	Male	Female	Totals
First	1904	363	370	733
	1905	362	340	702

School Board Meeting
The first regular meeting of the Board of Education before the opening of the schools on September fifth was held in the high school building last evening. The usual amount of routine business was transacted and the body's work on the summer repairs and changes, which have been made at the various buildings, was completed. Several resignations in the teaching corps of the city have occurred in the last few weeks and all vacancies were filled last evening. The place occupied by Lavern W. Brooks, who has gone to Nevada as superintendent of schools, was awarded to W. S. Donet, a graduate of Yale University and for the past two years has been teaching with much success in the high school at Toledo, Iowa. He was well recommended, both by the professors of his alma mater and members of the Toledo School board.

In the Graded Schools
Three who have been teaching in the graded schools have relinquished their positions and by appointment of new instructors, and the transfer of others these places were filled. Miss Margaret McGiffin of the sixth grade of the Garfield has resigned, having secured a position in the schools of Santa Barbara, California, at a salary nearly double that which she received here. Miss Hazel Wiley, who graduated from the Whitewater Normal school this last June and completed a course in the Janesville high school in 1901, was appointed to Miss McGiffin's position. Miss Anna Valentine has resigned her place as teacher in the first grade of the Webster school and this position was given to Miss Bethana Miller, just graduated from the kindergarten training school of Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, and who after receiving a diploma in the local high school assisted at the Adams school kindergarten. Miss Marjia Jackson has given up her position as teacher in the first grade of the Jackson school and by the transfer of two other primary grade instructors and the appointment of Miss Margaret Geddis of Menasha, the place was filled. Miss Mabel Glenn, appointed early last summer to the Grant school, was awarded Miss Jackson's place. Miss Rogers was returned from the Lincoln school to her former place in the Lincoln school. The high school in 1901, holds a diploma from the Platteville Normal school and has had ten years' experience in the city graded schools of Wisconsin.

Several famous heavy weights are being secured for pivots.

SHOT THE CHUTES AT MYERS THEATRE

Forlorn, Weepy Female Was Carried Over Niagara Falls in a Barrel Last Night.

"Over Niagara Falls," a nightmare in four spasms, played to a fair-sized audience at the Myers theatre last evening. The scenic settings were elaborate in conception but somewhat crude in execution. In the first place a ragged, oblong moon was inflicted on the spectators. After the villains had succeeded in sending Mlle Madeleine over the alleged falls in a barrel, the climax of the plot, and the breathless onlooker had been permitted to see the same carried over the crest and plunged into the abyss, the eyes were allowed to rest upon a wild, rocky scene reproduced from the grand canyon of Colorado or some other equally awe-inspiring spot. Prior to this there was much tiresome dialogue and everybody was glad when something really happened to the depressed, weepy individual who had been selected by fate to shoot the grand chutes. The rescue was duly effected to the immense discomfiture of the villain, and all ended happily.

CLINTON GIRL WAS LOST IN BIG CITY

Seven-Year-Old Daughter of John M. Lawson Believed To Have Been Kidnaped in Chicago.

Edna May Lawson, a seven-year-old daughter of John M. Lawson of Clinton, is believed to have been kidnaped in front of the Wellington restaurant in Chicago. The father had gone to the place with the little girl but upon arriving there she refused to go in. A woman, whom Lawson describes as having been blonde, tall and well having been a blonde, tall and well would look after the child while he went in to eat. After some hesitation, Lawson agreed to this strange proposition. When he came from his supper both woman and child had disappeared. Lawson's parents are still living in Clinton, his father being a wealthy retired farmer. The motive for the abduction, if such it was, is difficult to discover.

THREE NEW AUTOMOBILES ARRIVE IN JANESVILLE

Puff-Wagon Fraternity is Growing Rapidly in the Bower City.

New automobiles for Dr. R. W. Eden, Stokely Hutchinson and Earl Brown have arrived in the city. The latter had considerable difficulty in making the trip from Chicago on account of bad roads. The automobile craze appears to have gotten hold of Janesville at last.

Fred Johnson flipped the cars of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad at Thompson, Ill., and fell under the wheels. He was crushed to death.

News for the Railroad Men.

North-Western Road
Switchman Lavern Fraumfelder has returned from his eastern trip.

Railroad News in General.
New York, August 22.—Knowing that negotiations to that effect were in progress, no surprise was expressed by railroad men here at the announcement that the Wabash system has been successful in acquiring property in Chicago for a new outbound freight terminal in the heart of the downtown section. This is the site it was reported the Wabash and other roads would use for a new union passenger terminal. The Wabash expects to have the terminal completed by next spring. The outlay involved is over $1,500,000.

The New York Central is to invest $50,000 in a new freight house in Rochester, $250,000 in a yard enlargement, and a new engine house at Suspension bridge, $30,000 in a new freight house at Medina, N. Y., $40,000 in a passenger station at Auburn and about $300,000 for fifth tracks on the Western and Mohawk division. The improvements will be among the most extensive of any system during the year.

An effort is being made by a private corporation in California to induce leading lines to enter into arrangements for through transcontinental trains of compartment, dining, library and observation cars between the Atlantic and Pacific. The idea is not new and in view of the general attitude of railroads toward tourist companies of late, the opinion is entertained here that the proposition may not be received favorably.

A rumor from Ontario states that the Canadian Pacific has secured control of the Marquette, and may secure an entrance into Chicago over the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton system. It is known that the Canadian Pacific has been trying to secure a better entrance to Buffalo and a line to Chicago.

LAND AGENTS ARE WORSTED

Commissioner's Ruling Permits Veterans to File Homestead Claims.

Provo, Utah, Aug. 22.—To afford protection to soldiers and sailors who acquired the right in the drawing just closed to locate homesteads on the Utah Indian reservation Commissioner Richards of the general land office has ruled that soldiers and sailors who registered by proxy are not compelled to make their filings through the agent who registered them, but that they may file for themselves or may employ another agent to file for them. Many of the numerous agents here have represented that when they secured the power of attorney and registered the veterans they alone could enter the land. Some of these agents even have tried to extort $50 to $100 or a half interest in the claims from the veterans.

SECURE PERMITS TO BUILD FIRE

Odd Complication Arises Over New Fire Law in New Jersey.

East Orange, N. J., Aug. 22.—Householders are confronted by the possibility of being compelled to obtain a written permit from the chief of the fire department before they can kindle their kitchen fires. The reason for this is an ordinance providing that no person shall kindle any bonfire or other fire, or permit such fire to be made within forty feet of any building located within the fire limits, unless permission shall have first been obtained.

Mr. Samuel Griffin of 203 Locust St. journeyman carpenter says: "I had a severe attack of la grippe and as a result weakness of the kidneys set in. The secretions from those organs were greatly disordered, annoyed me much at night and I seemed to have limited control of them. After finishing the treatment my kidneys were so strengthened that I could sleep all night without being disturbed. I am better now than I have been for years and give all credit to Doan's Kidney Pills for bringing about the result."

GRAIN ARRIVALS.

According to reports received by the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics, total grain arrivals during the month of June at nine domestic seaports on the Atlantic Gulf, and Pacific coasts amounted to 12,787,130 bushels, and were slightly in excess of corresponding movements in 1904. For the first six months of the current calendar year 129,116,107 bushels of grain were received at these cities, in comparison with a similar total inbound movement in 1904 of 107,036,242 bushels. In contrast with the receipts for last year, gains were made at the markets of Portland, Me., Boston, New York and New Orleans; while losses occurred at Philadelphia, Baltimore, Galveston, San Francisco, and Tacoma.

At New York the receipts of grain during the month of June, 1905, totaled 5,608,974 bushels, as against a corresponding inbound movement in 1904 of 4,517,075 bushels. The grand total receipts of grain and flour and corn meal reduced to bushels, at New York during the first half of the current year aggregated 49,510,933 bushels, representing a rail movement of 47,668,823 bushels, a canal movement of 1,490,200 bushels, and a river and coast movement of 347,810 bushels. A similar total inbound movement in 1904 amounted to 39,255,610 bushels.

Grain arrivals at New Orleans during the month of June, 1905, totaled 291,400 bushels, in contrast with similar receipts in 1904 of 398,700 bushels and in 1903 of 243,071 bushels. Shipments for the month, which amounted to 125,814 bushels, were greatly in excess of similar movements in 1904, but fell nearly a million bushels below those of 1903. During the first half of the current year grain receipts at New Orleans totaled 1,434,000 bushels, as compared with a similar movement in 1904 of 1,087,647 bushels and in 1903 of 20,242,108 bushels. The great gain, as indicated in the 1905 arrivals, was entirely due to greatly increased corn receipts. Grain shipments from New Orleans during the first six months of 1905 aggregated 16,370,657 bushels, and were over 10 million bushels heavier than like movements in 1904, although they fell nearly 3 million bushels below those for 1903.

San Francisco's grain and flour receipts during the month of June totaled 1,196,201 bushels, of which 846,533 bushels came from interior points in California, 23,353 bushels from the coast region, and 225,813 bushels from Oregon and Washington. A similar total inbound movement in 1904 amounted to 1,364,208 bushels. During the first six months of 1905, 7,397,568 bushels of grain were received at San Francisco, as against 8,335,206 bushels in 1904, the loss as shown for the current year being due to lighter arrivals of flour, wheat and rye. The total shipments of all cereals from San Francisco during the month of June amounted to 201,343 bushels, being less than half the size of similar movements in 1904. For a six months' period the outbound movement of grain from this city aggregated 2,390,371 bushels, as compared with 3,542,470 bushels in 1904.

Of the export movement of grain from the United States during the first six months of the current year 42,841,556 bushels were credited to Atlantic ports, 22,476,209 bushels to Gulf ports, 4,093,470 bushels to Pacific ports, and 9,901,381 bushels to northern border, lake and other border ports, making a total of 78,312,646 bushels, as compared with a total outbound movement in 1904 of 38,290,203 bushels. Of the current year's grain exports nearly 55 per cent were withdrawn by way of the Atlantic ports, 29 per cent by way of the Gulf ports, 25 per cent by way of the Pacific ports, and 11 per cent by way of the northern border, lake, and other border ports. Similar percentages in 1904 were as follows: Atlantic ports, 47 per cent; Gulf ports, 22 per cent; Pacific ports, 16 per cent, and northern border, lake, and other border ports, 5 per cent.

Figures obtained from commercial sources indicate that the total available supply of cotton for the current season to and including June 30 amounted to 12,901,315 bales, as against a similar supply in 1904 of 10,006,707 bales, and in 1903 of 7,935,877 bales. The amount of cotton brought into sight during the month of June totaled 473,903 bales, and was the smallest quantity for any one month during the current season. The month during the current season, the net overland movement from September 1, 1904, to June 30, 1905, totaled 1,057,193 bales, and was approximately 150,000 bales greater than a similar movement in 1904, although slightly smaller than that for 1903. Of the bales for the season 2,197,062 bales went to northern mills and 1,967,175 bales to southern mills, a total of 4,164,237 bales in contrast with similar takings in 1904 of 3,882,812 bales, and in 1903 of 3,899,127 bales. As compared with the 1904 figures, the receipts for both the northern and southern mills indicate slight increases.

Cotton exports for the season to and including June 30 reached a total of 8,108,055 bales, an increase over the previous year's movement of over 2 million bales. Of the current season's foreign exports 3,814,362 bales went to the United Kingdom, 795,314 bales to France, and 3,498,389 bales to continental Europe, and other foreign countries. Shipments of anthracite coal from the anthracite region during the month of June totaled 5,344,052 tons, and were heavier than the movement for any other month of the current year with the exception of that for May, which amounted to 6,005,138 tons. During the first six months of 1905 anthracite coal shipments reached a total of 30,716,997 tons, as compared with 29,257,207 tons in 1904 and 31,344,932 tons in 1903.

The flatter part of it to Secretary Shaw is, that his political enemies think enough of his strength to circulate a report that he is going to get chummy with the Money Power in New York.

The Japanese peace envoys are said to be very liberal with their tips. They have probably learned from Mr. Rockefeller that it does not cost anything to give away the other fellow's money.

Rockefeller did not exactly want the linseed oil industry but he greatly feared that his young friend Miss Tarbell might be running short of material for the next magazine issue.

The census takers, in Wisconsin, found a married couple with 24 living children—the husband at age 52, wife 54. President Roosevelt has been notified of the find.

“When I came to Washington I found a lot of roll-top desks and some half-starved scientists,” says Secretary Wilson. The scientists have since been put on full rations.

Nowadays the Equitable policyholder can pay up a premium without feeling that he may be simply bearing part of the expenses for a $30,000 dinner party.

Ambassador Whitelaw Reid's daughter is reported to be engaged to Lord Brooke. The extra “o” in his name distinguishes him from other lords in London.

Secretary Bonaparte's decision that Navy Department clerks shall not be dining during business hours may lead the clerks to the habit of working overtime.

The Japanese have again demonstrated their “humanity” by refusing to release the Russian prisoners and ordering them to “return” to Russia.

Chicago reports an epidemic of burglaries, robberies and assaults. Naturally, those strike breakers have to do something between strikes.

The judges of an Evansville, Ind., court have determined to appoint a barkeeper as a clerk. The choice was between a barkeeper and a politician.

Still, one cannot blame Senators who have not been “caught” for feeling superior. Isn't that an evidence of greater smartness?

Twenty-three “Smiths” were registered at one hotel the other day in Detroit. Perhaps they came to town to show the Johnsons.

Secretary Taft must be tempted to drop over and lick China single-handed if it doesn't life that boycott on American goods.

While the rest of us have had to wait occasionally, it appears that the “hello” girls never gave Cupid the busy signal.

Russia is lucky in that it has no more islands lying around in the Pacific, for if it had Japan would sure get them.

At his own request, Paul Morton's salary has been cut. He will have to worry along somehow on only $80,000 a year.

Russia will probably be willing to pay $1,000,000,000 for peace in Manchuria if it would assure peace at home also.

The familiar headline “Sharks at Oyster Bay” has no reference to the President's distinguished visitors.

Kansas has two state treasurers. That is a good idea, if they can be set to watching each other.

For a while now we could get along if the occasional shower came only semi-occasionally.

Six months in jail looks longer to Senator Mitchell, than a six-year term in the Senate.

PRESS COMMENT.

Chicago Tribune: It is said that the town of De Pue, once meditated a change in the spelling of its name, but of late the idea has entirely died out.

El Paso Herald: One of the Chautauque lecturers is discoursing on a “Back to Eden” policy. The dress-makers would like to lynch that man.

Exchange: Wizard Burbank's next exploit should be along the line of an attempt to restore the ancient dignity of the boarding house prune.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: It seems to be understood that the Chinese are to get nothing at Portsmouth. It is a sad press comment.

La Crosse Tribune: A report comes from Beloit that Umpire Fay was bribed by La Crosse fans. When we come to think of it Beloit took in all the knuckers when Hawley “earned” ‘em.

Chicago Record-Herald: Wisconsin women are booming La Follette for the presidency in 1908 on the strength of his advocacy of the purity of the home life. But is there any real home life that isn't pure?

Milwaukee News: In that he wanted to hang Stuyvesant Fish by the thumbs instead of the neck, Governor La Follette naturally feels aggrieved that he has not been given credit for his moderation.

Kaukauna Sun: Were it not for the fact that there is a political fight going on among the grangers and the grand jury at Milwaukee, we wish in the country would forget all about political contests.

Neenah Times: The Appleton assessors could find only five watches in that city. And yet there were six Appletonians in Neenah today, each of whom carried a gold watch. At least six gold chains adorned the left front of their vests.

Chicago Inter-Ocean: Mayor Duane has felt ever since he received the Dairymple report that a long vacation would be of inestimable benefit to him. Still, hard work is oftentimes as good as rest for that tired feeling.

Exchange: The inimitable Mr. Dooley, commenting on Pullman car travel, says that nowadays when he is tempted to take a trip he throws $2 out of the window, puts a cinder in his eye and lies down to try and sleep on the closet shelf.

Oshkosh Northwestern: And so the man-arrester in Massachusetts on suspicion of being the mysterious Mr. Dove is not the right one. And just as the people of Chicago were commencing to believe that their detectives were good for something, after all.

Philadelphia North American: If Witte makes peace, so runs the report, the St. Petersburg contingent will say he sold Russia out. If he doesn't make peace he will put the blood of the war on his shoulders. Who wouldn't be a peace envoy of the great white czar?

Milwaukee Sentinel: The ideal conditions under which the people of Iowa live as the result of the efforts of their railroad rate commission is shown by the fact that hundreds of thousands of people are not annually moving to that state, which has lost in population since 1900.

Fond du Lac Reporter: Congressman Jenkins says, postmasters should be elected. There are many people who will agree with him. Just why a politician who has no interest in a community except the votes he can get out of it should select the man to handle the mail for that community is not plain to the average mind.

Racine Journal: Marshall Field of Chicago sets a good example to other rich men of that city and other cities in submitting without a murmur to the assessment upon his property. He very seldom expostulates unless he has very good reasons to complain of injustice. The merchant prince's wealth is variously estimated at from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000. His State street store is valued at $10,000,000.

Kenosha News: Kenosha is yet to have its first case under the new anti-cigarette law, although the violators are about as numerous as the smokers. Opinion is divided as to whether the law has decreased the use of the cigars among minors any, but is certain that no adult has had any difficulty in getting all he wanted at any time. The cigarettes are not openly on sale, but they are within the reach of anyone who has the price, just the same.

San Francisco Chronicle: Newport society has been sadly jarred by the disclosure of the fact that an astrologer of wonderful powers was merely a utilizer of trifles picked up here and there and reported to him by a confederate. We regard with amusement the vulgar herd who are anxious to hear all about their past, and to have their future peered into by charlatans, but it appears that the upper crust, despite its superior advantages, takes as much pleasure in being bunked as the silliest servant girl.

Appleton Post: There appears to be a shake-up among the cage wardens of the state. As politicians, the wardens have had their jealousies and scraps and the change in the law gives a chance for a cleaning up. The protection of game has little or nothing to do with the difficulties of reorganizing that force. Possibly there may be some change toward game protection and away from politics, or is the other way? A little more politics so game protection has some chance in any charge.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The Indiana anti-cigarette law is being enforced to the letter. It seems regardless of the “hardships” it imposes. The latest complaint is a circus, the Japanese and Egyptian attaches of which, threatened to strike because cigarettes were denied them during their stay in the Hoosier state. The governor has been appealed to but the chances are he will hold that a law which is good enough for the Hoosiers, is also good enough for aliens.

2nd ad press comment. Chicago Chronicle: Even the most admiring of Governor La Follette must now and then find themselves wondering if the Wisconsin statesman's antagonism to the railroads does not sometimes approach the proportions of a monomania. No matter what evil or abuse is under discussion, the governor is always prompt to attribute it to the malefic machinations of the railroads. As “Mr. Dick” was unable to keep the head of King Charles I. out of his literary productions, so Governor La Follette, no matter what he may be talking about, invariably winds up with a castigation of the railroads. The phenomenon is interesting but disquieting.

The Newspaper Man. Fond du Lac Bulletin: It may sound funny in the light of the fact that they are generally credited with strong indications towards Bohemian life, but it is nevertheless a fact that the standard of morality among newspaper men is high. By the term “newspaper men” is meant editors, reporters and writers, and it does not embrace the circulating and advertising departments. Statistics go to show that journalism produces fewer criminals than either the cloth, law or medicine. To be brutally frank, there are more rogues among the lawyers and doctors, and the clergy-men, than among the journalists. There is nothing personal in this assertion, as the former professions are in the main made up of good, clean men. It is a fact, though, that if a truthful history were to be written of sociological conditions in this city, covering a period of some thirty years, some interesting chapters would have to be devoted to ministers who cloped with other men's wives; to Sunday school superintendents whose records were tainted; to doctors who were not exactly what they should have been, and to lawyers whose departure to other climes was necessitated through force of circumstances. There is, however, not a single instance where a newspaper man has placed himself within the pale of the law or had his name even remotely hinted at in connection with a felony.

Sheriff Courts Inquiry. La Crosse Leader-Press: Associated Press reports from Chicago to the Leader-Press yesterday stated that the federal service was so incensed at the escape of four postoffice robbers from Wisconsin jails, including two from La Crosse, that an investigation of the management of the jails and the circumstances would be ordered. Such an investigation, Sheriff Houghton of this county declares, will be conducted by him. The escape of two prisoners within a short time has caused great criticism locally, as well as among the federal secret service men, of the condition of affairs at the jail, though there has been no reflection upon the competency or honesty of Sheriff Houghton himself. The public is anxious to know what Mr. Houghton has done to prevent such escapes. If he is found to be incompetent, he will be removed. The public is anxious to know what Mr. Houghton has done to prevent such escapes. If he is found to be incompetent, he will be removed.

A Shocking Record. Green Bay Gazette: A table of statistics compiled by the interstate commerce commission makes the astounding revelation that over ten thousand persons lost their lives on the railroads of the United States during the past year, while over eight thousand more were injured. Comparatively few battles in the history of the world have been the cause of as many deaths and as much property loss as the railroads. The cause of the loss of life is usually a very brief paragraph at the end of the news item, and the large railway companies of the country are straining every nerve to lower speed records and establish reputations for covering long distances between large cities in the lowest possible time in order to secure the bulk of the business. The railroads are not altogether to blame for this. They are endeavoring to give to the people what they want but they are going too far. The present time schedules are plenty fast enough and the energies of the companies should be bent toward the lessening of danger of accident. The company which establishes a reputation for freedom from accident will secure the passenger business rather than the one which makes the fastest time regardless of human life.

GOLDEN WEDDING IS CELEBRATED

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS DUNPHY
HONOR EVENT

IN THE TOWN OF HARMONY

Barbecue with Athletic Sports, Ceremonies and Dance—Mark the Occasion.

This afternoon and evening a scene of jollification and celebration seldom witnessed in Rock county is taking place at the farm of Thomas Dunphy, six miles northeast of the city. It is the occasion of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Dunphy, and the neighbors and friends of the aged couple to the number of some four hundred are enjoying their open hospitality.

Huge Barbecue

The affair is a huge barbecue and entire beefs and dozens of poultry have been roasted for the two suppers, one to be served at six this evening for the older members of the party especially and another to be spread at midnight for the dancers. The arrival of guests commenced this morning about ten o'clock and it was not expected to cease before the close of day, for many, unable to leave their fields on the farm or finding it impossible to get away from their places of employment in the city, will go after supper. The greater majority of those enjoying the celebration are the old settlers and pioneers with their children and grand-children. It is believed that a hundred and fifty attended from the city of Janesville alone and not a family in Harmony or the surrounding townships, who are acquainted with the Dunphys, will fail in being represented.

The Afternoon

Nearly a hundred ate dinner at the farm and by three o'clock this number had swelled to three hundred. The early portion of the afternoon was occupied with social gatherings and athletic sports which were conducted in a nearby field. A baseball game was played between nines from the city and from the town of Harmony. Teams representing the same places pulled a tug of war, while contests among individuals were held in the form of foot, pick-a-back and potato races, running events among fat people, the lean people, the old and the young. Later in the day the throngs adjourned to the home, where interesting and appropriate exercises took place. Dean E. M. McGinnity was present and performed the ceremony, which a priest has the pleasure of performing but few, if any, times in his life, that for the occasion of the fiftieth wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Dunphy were then presented with numerous and valuable gifts from friends and relatives. Among these were fifty dollars in gold, one dollar for each year of happy wedded life, from the neighbors of the honored couple; a gold-headed cane to Mr. Dunphy; and a pair of gold rimmed spectacles and a diamond brooch to Mrs. Dunphy from their friends in Janesville.

Hundreds of young and old people will dance this evening and long into the morning. A platform, covered with circus canvas, has been erected for this purpose and for serving the repasts. Music will be furnished by the Saunders and Orcutt orchestra of Milton.

Are Old Settlers

Besides enjoying the distinction of having been married fifty years, Mr. and Mrs. Dunphy take pride in the fact that they have lived on their present home farm for nearly the same length of time. They are both natives of Ireland and were married after a few years' residence in New York city at Staten Island in 1855. They came westward immediately after the ceremony and arrived in the town of Harmony, Rock County. For a year Mr. Dunphy worked for settlers and laid by enough to purchase twenty acres. From this small beginning he has increased his farm to eighty acres, and is in very comfortable circumstances. Mr. and Mrs. Dunphy are well known in the county and Mr. Dunphy has been prominent in the affairs of his own township for many years. At the celebration this afternoon there were eighteen relatives of the old couple present.

HUNTERS MUST PAY FOR THEIR BAGGAGE

Railroads issue a New Law Regarding Hunters' Paraphernalia This Year.

The general baggage officials of the various Wisconsin railroads have recently issued orders to all local agents that hereafter they are not to check free any baggage above the legal allowance of 150 pounds for a full ticket and 75 pounds for a half ticket, and that camping, fishing, tinware and canvas outfits can no longer be accepted as baggage at all, but must be sent by express or freight. The baggage men at the depot have received orders to the effect that agents will not accept for transportation either free or for compensation, hunters' outfits, boats, bundles of bedding, camp stuff, hammocks, cooking utensils, or boxes of supplies. This supersedes all previous instructions and all permits issued prior to this are declared null and void.

Hunting Season Sept. 1

The hunting season opens September 1. Already some 75 licenses have been issued by County Clerk Lee and there are indications that many more will be issued. The season begins a few days after the open season begins. Naturally enough the enforcement of this ruling will cause inconvenience to those who yearly take a vacation from business to go out into the northern woods to camp and hunt. These people usually desire to carry more or less baggage, which is often increased on the return journey. No complaints against the new order of the railroad companies have yet been made, but it is thought that as the hunting season approaches its effect will be felt.

Outside Parties Affected?

It is not known what ruling the railroad companies have made in case a man comes from outside the state with outling baggage. Some claim that the outside travelers are allowed to have the privileges under the old ruling.

A Dangerous Flower.

The florist held a tulip in his hand. "Some people claim a tulip has no smell," he said. "As a matter of fact, it has a dangerous smell. Take a tulip of a deep crimson color and inhale it with profound inspirations, and it will be apt to make you light headed. You will say and do queer things—dance, sing, fight, and so on. For two hours you will cut up in this way. Afterward you will be depressed."

WILL CITY EQUIP A POLICE LAUNCH?

To Enforce the New Merritt Navigation Ordinance on the Rock River?

How are the police going to enforce the Merritt navigation ordinance requiring lights on all gasoline launches and motor boats of any description plying the Rock river within the corporate limits of the city which extend almost to the Chautauqui grounds? That's the question which is agitating official circles today. It is a notorious fact that the starboard and port lights which all self-respecting craft carry on almost dry sheet of water in United States and other civilized countries that could be mentioned are sadly missing on the great majority of boats navigating the Rock. But how are the police to give chase to the law-breakers? Will the city furnish and equip a small revenue-cutter or does it expect the officers to pursue the boats on land?

IT'S CLUB DAY AT SINNISSIPPI LINKS

Semi Finals for Richardson and Fifield Trophies Being Played Off Today.

At the golf links this afternoon many of the players are working into form for the contest with Rockford on Thursday. The semi-finals in the Richardson medal contest for men are to be played off by Al Schaller and C. C. MacLean, Leo Brownell and George Baumann. The latter won his contest with Fred Schaller last week 3 up and 1 to play. Through some error the victory was credited to Mr. Schaller at the time. The semi-finals in the ladies' contest for the Fifield trophy were to be played by Mrs. A. Harris and Miss Elizabeth Wilcox, Miss Elisabeth Schlicher and Miss Catherine Pfiffeld this afternoon. The last named pair, however, found it impossible to play.

DRIVEN FROM OWN HOMES BY DOGS

T. O. Howe and Frank Baack Inform Police Department of a Crying Nuisance.

When Frank H. Baack returned to his home, 234 South Wisconsin street, the other evening he found a congress of dogs assembled on and around his front door-mat. When he tried to enter his own home they snarled and snapped at him and he was obliged to retreat and secure a club before venturing to climb his steps again. T. O. Howe had a similar experience upon returning to his home, 201 South Division street. The canines put up such a savage front that he found it necessary to make a better part of valor and after much maneuvering entered his residence through a rear window in the manner of a burglar. It was not the first time this thing had occurred within the experience of either gentleman. This afternoon they visited Chief Comstock and consulted with him. It was decided to notify such owners as could be located to keep their dogs at home after dark on pain of the beasts being shot. If there is one thing that exasperates a man, it is to be driven from his own home by a strange cur. The leader of this band of bandit dogs is a large greyhound said to belong to Dick McNeil. The third ward residents are swearing that they will wreak a bloody vengeance on the whole canine family. "Dogs seem to be over-running the town," said Chief Comstock. "We have killed 100 since I have been in office."

Your Future

Foretold

By the Celebrated

Clairvoyant

Palmist,

Prof. Glade

55 Dodge St.

Appreciating the fact that many of our best citizens would like to consult a clairvoyant, if they at first felt satisfied that in so doing they would receive value in return for money so spent, therefore, as a matter of advertisement, Prof. Glade has reduced his readings, 50 cts. and $1. No matter what may have been your experience with so-called clairvoyants and palmists or pretenders, he has nothing in common with such. Mr. Glade is different from other clairvoyants, because he does what they claim to do. He gives you relief, information, success, satisfaction, power and control of any character affecting anyone or anything. PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE. He tells you just what you may expect, and what to do for your best interests in any matter. He awakens a natural force within you and around you which will give you a secret power to overcome your trouble. He opens up a way for your success and happiness you desire. A power to change the thoughts, actions, habits or intentions of anyone. Prof. Glade has made a life study of his work, and is prepared to advise and assist you, no matter what your troubles are.

In his capacity there is no guess-work. Every procedure is definite and exact, and the result is certain. If you have already made a mistake, thrown away your money and lost confidence through dealings with much advertised and self-styled clairvoyants and their cheap clap-net methods, start from the beginning and consult Prof. Glade. He will tell you frankly your condition and what you may expect. If nothing can be done for you he will not take one cent of your money. Is this not fair and honest?

When and where others fail he never fails to teach you how to fascinate anyone you desire. How to overcome obstacles, causes speedy and happy marriages with the one of your choice, gives you good luck, success, reunites the separated, and can make you successful in business.

Curiosity seekers and those who hope to find entertainment and amusement had better not call, as his time is too valuable to waste on such, when there are hundreds who honestly wish assistance.

Life a Burden

There are times when life seems a burden—when you are tired, worn-out, have dull pains in the head and a continual feeling of uneasiness. You have no appetite, and your digestion is poor; your sleep is broken, and you get no rest.

Little annoyances seem great mountains of trouble, and you are blue, melancholy and given over to gloomy forebodings. This means low vitality—exhausted brain nerves.

For this condition Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a specific; it is a food for the nerves. It builds up the nervous system, and restores lost energy.

Try it to-day and see if your sleep is not sound and refreshing, and the morrow brighter and more hopeful.

"I am glad to announce that I have recovered my health, as far as my advanced age will permit, as I am 82 years of age. My case was very bad. I suffered much pain and chilliness; was so weak and felt so sad and lonely and heart-broken. When I commenced taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine I was completely prostrated. I have taken the Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, and they cured me."

MRS. E. C. SAWLEY.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

LAST SESSION OF THE ENVOYS

Little Hope That Peace Plenipotentiaries Will Agree on Terms.

JAPAN INSISTS ON INDEMNITY

Prospects Are That the Meeting This Afternoon Will Be the Last Unless Russia Is Willing to Concede Claims of Opponents.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 22.—There was reasonably direct information at 10 o'clock last night that the Russians had received gloomy news from St. Petersburg. M. Karostevitz, the Russian spokesman, would not comment on the report. M. Witte refused to discuss it. No Russian would say a word.

It is probably true that the czar's reply to the president's proposition is here. It is also true that the chances favor a continuance of the war rather than negotiations that will eventually bring about peace.

Sull, the Japanese, who have not divulged a shred of information concerning their position, may be prepared to make concessions. They say nothing that can be twisted into an inference. They may make concessions and they may not.

It will not be surprising if the end does not come to-day. There may be a general discussion of the four disputed points in the conditions—the cession of Sakhalin island, the payment of an indemnity, the taking over of the interned Russian ships by Japan and the limitation of Russia's naval power in the far East.

Adjournment Is Possible.

That discussion may last so long that an adjournment may be taken. This adjournment, if it is taken, may mean everything or it may nothing. It is a discussion based on differences that may be smoothed out, then peace will be nearer.

If it is merely a discussion of the language in which the various paragraphs of the protocols are to be phrased, it will mean but the delay of the end for twenty-four or forty-eight hours.

Indeed the envoys could possibly adjourn without date and be brought together again somewhere else or here for a further discussion. That is possible, but not probable. Everything is possible until the Russians get aboard ship and start for home. Then it will be quite certain that the Portsmouth conference has failed.

Theories Are Plentiful.

Every man one meets has a new theory, but no man has any information. Speculation by the column might be indulged in, but all to no profit. The only certain thing is that the time to play trumps has arrived, and that the envoys know it and are preparing to play them.

The outlook is gloomy. The Russians insist they will make no concessions. The Japanese say nothing, but their intimates say they have presented their terms to the Russians to take or leave.

M. Witte, when told of the story that the President proposed arbitration, said: "The story is idiotic," and Mr. Takahira said "Impossible."

Baron Komura Laughs.

Baron Komura, when told of this as the basis of the President's proposition to Baron Rosen, laughed for the first time since he has been here. The President is willing to act as mediator. There is a vast difference between mediation and arbitration. The idea of arbitrating after each side has lost thousands of men and spent hundreds of millions of money struck the envoys as funny.

Dispatches received here indicate the President is on tenter-hooks at Oyster Bay. He has been told very plainly that there is little chance that his plan will work out.

The envoys will meet at 3 o'clock. The protocols will be ready, those in French prepared by the Russians and those in English prepared by the Japanese. They must be compared. They will be discussed. If there are to be new propositions they will come during this discussion.

If there are no new propositions the text will be perfected and adjournment taken. No man in Portsmouth, not excepting the envoys, is wise enough to predict what the outcome of that meeting will be. The only thing that can be said with certainty is that both sides fear the outcome will mean war instead of peace.

All Over Unless Russia Pays.

"We have fought for a lasting peace," said one of the Japanese attaches closest to the chiefs. "We have been victorious. If Russia came to Portsmouth unprepared to pay the price of defeat all is over. We don't believe that the President thinks our terms unreasonable. He knows Japan's position as accurately as does either of the Japanese plenipotentiaries.

"We do not believe he will ask us to weaken at the last moment and yield, even to save the negotiations. Heartily as the whole world desires peace, Japan believes the neutral powers would prefer that war should continue for a year or even two years longer than that Japan, for the sake of immediate peace, should make concessions now and be forced perhaps a decade hence to reopen hostilities."

It is estimated by those in charge of the work of taking the state census of Madison that the city has a population of 24,500, a gain of about 5,000 since 1900, and about 9,000 since 1895.

LOUISVILLE BANK IS CLOSED

Receiver Appointed for Western National, a Small Institution.

Louisville, Aug. 22.—The Western National bank of this city was closed Monday by order of the comptroller of the currency at Washington. The failure was not a surprise, as on May 29 the bank's statement showed a reserve fund of only 14 per cent, and the business of the institution had fallen off steadily since then. The bank's stock declined from 107 to 35. Thomas W. Thornton was appointed receiver. The comptroller's statement declared that the bank's capital was badly impaired by losses; that there was not enough money on hand to pay all deposits and that it was deemed advisable to close the institution so that all depositors would be protected alike.

KIDNEY TROUBLES

Increasing Among Women, But Sufferers Need Not Despair

THE BEST ADVICE IS FREE

Of all the diseases known, with which the female organism is afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal, and statistics show that this disease is on the increase among women.

Unless early and correct treatment is applied, the patient seldom survives when once the disease is fastened upon her. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most efficient treatment for kidney troubles of women, and is the only medicine especially prepared for this purpose.

When a woman is troubled with pain or weight in loins, backache, frequent, painful or scalding urination, swelling of limbs or feet, swelling under the eyes, an uneasy, tired feeling in the region of the kidneys or a brick-dust sediment in the urine, she should lose no time in commencing treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it may be the means of saving her life.

For proof, read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Sawyer.

"I cannot express the terrible suffering I had to endure. A derangement of the female organs developed nervous prostration and a serious kidney trouble. The doctor attended me for a year, but I kept getting worse, until I was unable to do anything, and I made up my mind I could not live. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as a last resort, and I am to-day a well woman. I cannot praise it too highly, and I tell every suffering woman about my case."

Over the Border

By...
ROBERT BARR.

Copyright, 1905, by Frederick A. Stokes Co.

Author of "Jennie Baxter," Journalist," Etc.

"Frances, no lover truly entitled to bear that dear name thinks himself worthy of her on whom his heart is set, and I do not plead my own worthiness when I sue for your favor. But I am buoyed up by the thought that every day we live some woman marries some man, therefore are women to be persuaded, and there are none on earth but us to persuade them. Why should my fortune be worse than that of my fellows?"

"Sir, you forget or ignore that every day of our lives some woman refuses some man and never marries him. Why should your fortune differ from that of so many of your fellows?"

"You have pierced the armor there, my girl, so I own my slight defective and fall back on my own unworthiness, to beseech your pity on it and point the way to that amendment."

other honest man. If you knew what it costs me to say this you would let these words be the last we speak in this painful debate."

"Deceit? Not worthy of any honest man? Lord save you, child of sweet innocence! If this is all that troubles you there is nothing in our way to the church. Your eyes are limpid wells of honesty. You could not harbor a deceitful thought if you tried. I would trust my life, my honor, my very soul, to your keeping, assured that—"

"Halt!" came a sharp command. Armstrong looked up like a man awakening from a dream.

"Fore heaven!" he cried, wonder-stricken. "We're on the outposts of Oxford."

A ragged soldier barred the way, with musket held horizontally. An officer in a uniform that had once been road when he had plainly seen that some strong emotion tormented her. This mental perturbation, combined with the physical strain she had undergone during her long journey, fully accounted for the prostration of the moment at the end.

"My poor lass," he said regretfully. "I am to blame. I am a thoughtless, selfish hound to have so sorely troubled you with my insistence."

"It is not that," she whispered faintly, leaning heavily on him with the pathetic helplessness of a tired child, a dependence which sent a thrill of pity and love for her tingling to his finger ends. "Take me in; take me in quickly. I am ill."

Now the lord great chamberlain, all smiles and courtesy, stepped forward and said with authority to the inkeeper:

"The chief rooms in the house for the lady. Turn out whoever occupies them, whatever their quality."

The landlord called his wife, and Frances was given into her care. The officer introduced the traveler to the high official:

"My lord chamberlain, this gentleman says he has come from the Scottish nobles with a message for his majesty. Sir, M. de Courcy, lord great chamberlain to the king."

Frenchman and Scot bowed to each other, the grace of the gesture being almost entirely in favor of the former despite his marred face.

"Sir," said Armstrong to the officer, "I thank you for your guidance, and you, my lord," to De Courcy, "for your kind and prompt command with respect to the lady. She has had a long and trying journey through a dangerous country, under continual fear of arrest, and so it is not to be wondered that a woman should succumb to the strain at the last."

"The officer who has left us did not give me your name, sir," said De Courcy.

"I am William Armstrong, somewhat known on the border, a Scottish gentleman and a loyal subject of his majesty the king."

"Then you are very welcome in Oxford, and I am sure his majesty wishes there were more like you in the environs thereof and the regions beyond. It is now too late to see the king today, and probably you are not loath to meet a night's rest after a hard day's riding. I will arrange a conference for you with his majesty as soon as possible."

"Thank you. If I may hint that every day is of value you will perhaps urge upon the king the danger of delay."

"I shall not fail to do so. Good night."

For the first time in his life Armstrong left his horse to the care of others and entered the inn to inquire after the welfare of the lady who absorbed his thoughts. She sent word that she was quite recovered, but would see no one until the morning. With this he was fain to be content, and he wandered about the town in the gathering dusk, hoping to do her a service by discovering the whereabouts of Lord Ruddy's son, to whom he supposed she carried some message from her brother.

He learned that this young man, who was a captain in the king's army, had been sent, it was supposed, to London, but nothing had been heard of him for a month or more, and whether he was prisoner or not none could say. This intelligence depressed Armstrong, who feared that the girl had taken her long journey for nothing and that the failing to find the one she sought might entail serious consequences upon her brother or herself, for each in turn had manifested great concern touching the mission she had undertaken.

Next morning his first visitor was the lord chamberlain, who expressed deep regret that the king was indisposed and could not see any emissary from the Scots that day. The high official spoke feelingly of the disappointment the monarch had been called upon to endure through the unwelcome success of his rebellious subjects, and this statement seemed to the traveler only what was to have been expected.

RECALLING THE SHEPHERDESS SHAPE

Decidedly chic and original in outline, while strongly suggestive of the favorite shepherdess shape, this chapeau in raised chenille braids that are made from pastel-colored strands, with just sufficient black and white interwoven to make a most piquant effect, will be sure of a very cordial acceptance in the autumn fashions. The crown is broad and sets comfortably to the shape of the head, a bandeau lifting the shape well in front, so that it does not present too heavy a line over the face. The brim is manipulated in double fashion, the lower one projecting some few inches above the upper one, and a broad scarf of silk ribbon is carelessly wound between the two brims. The crown is encircled with another and similar scarf, tied in a bow at the left side, and a large blackbird is posed flat upon the crown, with the wings lying flat on the brims towards the back.

UNCLE SAM LOSES REVENUE

Scandal in Connection With Cuban Tobacco Importations.

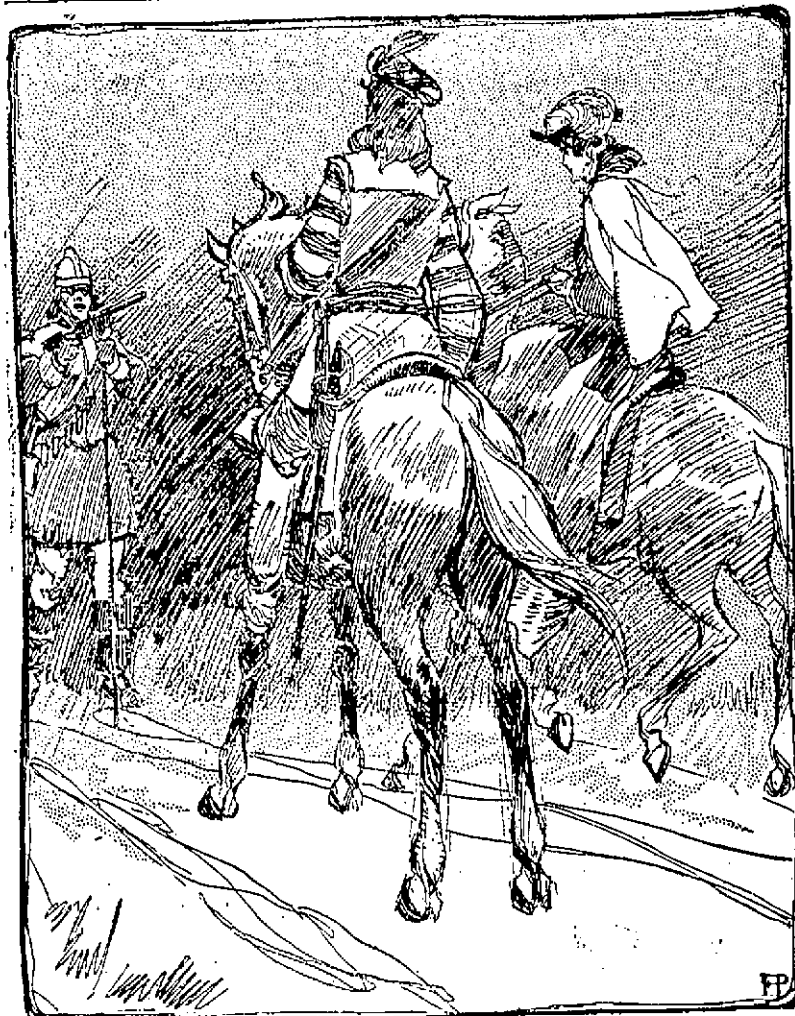

Washington, Aug. 25.—What promises to develop into a scandal in the customs division of the treasury department in connection with the importation of Cuban tobacco and the loss of several hundred thousands dollars in government revenue is now under investigation. Secretary Shaw and Assistant Secretary Reynolds are both out of town, but when they return an official statement is expected. This investigation grows out of the peculiar circumstances in connection with the shipment of a large quantity of Cuban tobacco from Havana to New York via Tampa, Fla. The real point involved is that the tobacco was imported as fiber, or which the duty is 30 cents a pound, while it is charged it is really wrapper, of which the duty is $1.60 a pound.

which will make me deserving in your eyes."

"Sir, you force me unduly. You drive me toward confession. Pitying God is my witness that I hold naught against you. You must accept my answer as final and let us have an end of this fruitless and embarrassing conversation. I can never marry you."

"There is but one circumstance to prevent it."

"Then believe that circumstance exists."

"You love another?"

"I do not."

"The young man laughed joyously, but no corresponding smile disturbed the set lips of the girl. When he accused her of loving another she glanced up at him for one brief moment and answered before she thought, wishing her reply recalled as soon as it was uttered, for if she had agreed with him he himself had said it was at an end. Bitterly did she regret her heedless destruction of the barrier which would have separated them. Now she must erect another more terrible, more complete, be the consequences what they may."

"Sir, you laugh. I am glad your heart is light, for mine is heavy enough. If I loved another 'twere a small matter, for the man were not likely so estimable in a woman's eyes as you are. As I have said, you drive me toward confession, and here is one bold enough for a maiden to make. I admit you please me well, and if I had loved another—a woman's affection is fickle—you were like to benefit by its transference. But there is an obstacle between us more serious than the one you proclaimed sufficient. Take that as truth and ask me no more."

"I must be the judge of the obstacle. What is it?"

"I shall make full confession when this war is finished if you ask me."

"But the war can have nothing to do with your feeling toward me or my adoration of you."

"You shall judge when you hear."

"Then let me hear now."

"No. Your persistence when you see how distraught I am dims your title of gentleman. A lady should not be coerced."

"Your censure is just; but, oh, pity my despair if this obstacle be real. It cannot be real. Whatever it is it shall dissolve before my burning love as mist before the sun. Tell it to me now that I may show you that it is the fabric of a vision."

The girl remained silent, her lips parted, her eyes fixed upon his. As if in the interval of stillness a specter intervened between them and brought a startled expression into his eyes, their intensity sharpened suddenly, and he said in a low voice:

"Do not tell me you are already married?"

"I am wedded to deceit, Sir. I am not worthy your love, or that of any Painless, Natural Childbirth.

Baby's coming into the world should be preceded by a certain preparation on the part of every woman who expects to become a mother. She owes it as a duty to her unborn babe, and to herself; her duty to her unborn babe is to use every means within her power to aid his entrance into the world. Baby cannot help himself in this ordeal, therefore mother must. He has a hard enough time after his arrival, so let us make his coming easy. His health in after life depends upon the manner of his coming. Would you have your child a cripple, or would you have him a tower of strength? Strong men are but grown-up children; a famous surgeon in Vienna is devoting his life-work to the cure of little helpless cripples, deformed by birth; do not allow your child to become a cripple.

Mack Has Schoolboy "Phenom"

John Knight, Shortstop of Philadelphia Americans, Youngest League Player --- Inherits Ability. John Evers of Chicago Another Prodigy.

The Athletic club of the American league enjoys the unique distinction of having discovered and at once used with success in championship games a mere schoolboy, without professional experience. That youth is John Knight, the new 1905 shortstop who leaped from obscurity to national fame in a day, as it were.

SHORTSTOP JOHN KNIGHT, PHILADELPHIA AMERICANS.

Knight was born in Philadelphia in 1885 and learned to play ball on the lots and with school teams. He comes by his talent right, as his father, now a city employee, was pitcher for the old Shibe club in 1875-79, and a right good pitcher too.

It is, by the way, quite a coincidence wholly unequalled in the history of baseball that both father and son should have played on clubs thirty years apart, headed by the same man—Ben Shibe, the present head of the fourth Athletic club. Young Knight in the course of time was admitted to the Philadelphia High school, of whose team he became third baseman in his junior year, 1904. After the school term closed he finished the season with the Brandywine club of West Chester, Pa., playing under the name of Ryan. During the past winter he was engaged by Connie Mack upon the earnest recommendation of friends and taken south last spring. He made a favorable impression upon Manager Mack and his fellow players and was held for substitute work. In the very first championship game of 1905 Shortstop Monte Cross had his hand broken by a pitched ball, and Knight was sent in to play an unfamiliar position, his experience having been confined to third base play. His instantaneous success is a matter of record. While not the equal of the agile Cross as a ground coverer, he nevertheless proved himself a clever fielder, while at the bat he was a wonder.

For weeks Knight was in every batting rally, won a number of games by timely hits and led the Athletic team and the American league with a great batting average.

Another lad, a mere stripling, who has suddenly won wide baseball fame is John Evers, second baseman of the Chicago Nationals. Evers is only twenty-two years old, two years the senior of Knight. He was born at Troy, N. Y., on March 21, 1883. He made his debut as a professional with the 1902 team that represented his home city in the New York league and made such a fine record that in September of that year he was sold to the Chicago club.

Evers had more chances in 1904 than any major league infielder, first basemen excepted. His batting record follows: With Troy, .253 in 1902; with Chicago, .203 in 1903 and .265 in 1904. He led the New York league in home runs in 1902, but has not made a four base hit during his National league career.

The Up to Date Bunny

One day Mr. Rabbit was loping around the woods, looking for what ever might satisfy his hopeless appetite, when he espied a large trap set by Mr. Man. He walked up cautiously and inspected it. Inside was a luscious looking chestnut. Mr. Rabbit's mouth watered, but being up to date rabbit he sat on his haunches and considered.

"Huh!" said he. "That sort of thing is played out. Might have fooled my granddaddy, but he's got to play a foxier game than this to catch me.

"Wonder how I'll get that chestnut, though."

It didn't take him long. In a moment he was off on a trot to Mr. Man's cabin in the woods and banging on his back door.

"Ho, Mr. Man, come out here!" Mr. Man stuck his head out. "What yer want?" he asked.

"Please, Mr. Man, give me a brick." "What yer want with a brick?"

"Oh, I'm tired of life and want to die. Earth has no joys for me more. I'll tie the brick around my neck and jump in the pond. You'll never be troubled with me again."

Of course Mr. Man wanted to get rid of Mr. Rabbit, as he had done so much harm about the place, so he gave him the brick.

Mr. Rabbit thanked him sadly and started for the pond.

"Now watch me," he grinned, when he got back to where the trap stood. Saying which he tied the brick on to the other end of the lever that held the trapdoor and quietly got his chestnut out without harm.

On the inside of the trap next morning Mr. Man found a note which read: "Mr. Man, you are a chestnut."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

THE ROOSTER FINDS THE MOON

"Because he had eaten too much supper a rooster one night was unable to sleep, and he just had to sit up on the roost and gaze out through the cracks in the hen house roof at the stars while all the rest of his family slept and snored.

"He thought the stars were very wonderful, and the moon seemed marvelous.

The next day as he was crossing a field he came across a ball—one of those fancy colored bouncing balls that children love to play with. Now, Mr. Rooster had never seen one of them before, and he did not know what it was.

"This must be the moon that I saw last night," he said finally. "I wonder what it is doing down here instead of being up in the sky? It is very beautiful, it is true, but I would like to see it shine as it did last night. I suppose it doesn't shine during the day, so I'll wait until night and see it."

So Mr. Rooster sat down by the ball and waited. The sun went down, and it grew dark, and black clouds hid the stars and all the sky, but still the ball would not shine.

"It is very strange," declared the rooster as he sat and waited. All the other chickens had gone to roost hours before, but still the rooster waited and watched.

Then the wind began to blow and the thunder to roll and the lightning to flash, and the first thing Mr. Rooster knew it was raining in torrents and he was soaked to the skin and most frightened out of his wits.

"I'll save the moon," he cried, and he grabbed up the ball and tried to run with it. When he reached the hen house door, the rain had stopped and the wind had swept the clouds from the sky, and Mr. Rooster looked up and saw the moon smiling sweetly at him.

"So this isn't the moon after all," said Mr. Rooster, looking down at the ball. "Well, I guess it must be one of the stars."—Atlanta Constitution.

PLAN TO BUILD PACKING PLANTS

Butchers and Small Packers Join Hands in Forming New Company.

NOT TO OPPOSE WITH BIG FOUR

Organizers Deny Any Intention of Attacking the Big Concerns Now Doing Business, but Admit Extension Is Contemplated.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Plans for a $200,000 packing plant, to be owned and operated by butchers and small packers independent of the big stock yards firms, are being carried out by a new company known as the Western Packing and Provision Company.

The plant, which is one of many independent concerns newly created throughout the United States and Canada to circumvent the interests controlling the business, will be erected at Morgan and Thirty-eighth streets, and will be in operation some time in October.

James S. Agar of the Agar Packing Company is president of the new company. He and his associates made strenuous denial of intimations to the effect that they were preparing to make war on the mammoth concerns.

Independent All Around. They also denied that the western company was in any way connected with numerous other companies formed under similar conditions in different parts of the United States.

It had been intimated that there was some connection between the western company and the Independent Packing company, of which Patrick Brennan of Hoff & Brennan is the head, but Mr. Agar declared that no connection existed between them.

"This is simply a local company formed by butchers and small packers, so that they can do business cheaper," said Mr. Agar. "I want it distinctly understood that we are not trying to oppose the big packers. It is absurd to think so. We are not strong enough to do it if we wanted to. The Western has nothing to do with any other company."

Gain by Utilizing By-Products. "We have done much of our own killing for years. Hoff has killed a good deal for small butchers and packers. I see no opposition in the way of our continuing to kill all our own meat. The offal, bones and hair will belong to us to do what we like with. We can utilize this material and save money."

The officers of the new company are: President, James S. Agar; vice president, Oscar F. Mayor; secretary, James Roman; treasurer, J. C. Dahmke. Ald. Milton J. Foreman is the attorney for the Western company.

Architect Zachary T. Davis, for eight years in the employ of Armour & Co., is designing a number of new plants for companies similar to the Western company. These plants will be situated in different parts of the United States. One of them is in Europe. Reports to the effect that another $300,000 plant would be built in Chicago next fall were denied by Mr. Davis.

Railroads Are Agreeable. Patrick Brennan is at the head of the $150,000 plant of the Independent Packing Company, at West Forty-first and Halsted streets. This plant was erected with as much care to avoid publicity as the plant of the Western Packing Company. It is said that the railroads have given assurance that they will accommodate the independent concerns.

Architect Davis called attention to the fact that independent plants are being built in Kansas City, Detroit, Toronto, Rockford, Ill., Aberdeen, S. D., Buffalo, and elsewhere.

"The small packers and butchers seem to be getting the same idea at once," said the architect. "They all want it made plain, however, that they are not trying to oppose the big packers. It is simply a plan to save money."

German Publications. In Germany last year 28,378 books were published. Of this number only 3,954 volumes were ranked as "belles lettres." Fiction was included under this head. The output is not so astonishing as it seems, for pamphlets and university leaflets are reckoned as books in the list.

Bee Farms in Australia.

In many parts of the Australian continent bee farming has become a profitable and popular occupation. There are at present over 250,000 hives in Australia, producing from 10,000,000 pounds to 15,000,000 pounds annually.
